

Henry County Added to Borer Quarantine

The Illinois Department of Agriculture announced two more counties are under quarantine because of emerald ash borer infestations. Infestations have been confirmed in Henry and Knox Counties and they have joined 39 other counties under quarantine because of the destructive beetle. The quarantine forbids the move of live ash trees or their wood products outside of the quarantine area.